PONY-CROSS 777's Newest 2 Weekend Series Announced by Jed McCastle (User's Update)

For five years since trying to find a better home for small creators like me who are Autistic and creative in their acts, YouTube was my interest in performing my videos online, this was until that date in November 2020, but due to my visitors' misbehavior (most of them), they just make excuses, bully me online, scamming my channel about money investments to make lots of money that is a real online fraud, and people on getting me interested on subscribing other channels if yet an inappropriate YouTubers that tricks me in my low interests of channels, YouTubers if involving in sex/porn viral videos, famous YouTubers that are yet not my interests like Shane Dawson (Shane Dorkson), Smosh (Squash), PewDiePie (PoopDeadPie), and many annoying popular YouTubers just to make a bunch of money of their every week's new uploads stupidity!

Unfortunately, let's face it to not offend my visitors on my PONY-CROSS 777's Internet Archive account, YouTube is 100% dead gone for me on coming back again, even if my family tries to get me interested in watching any YouTube videos that are always garbage to me! But yet, even if a YouTube alternative isn't my therapy enough to have fans without making any money online, it sucks to not have real results! Rumble, BitChute, MINDS, and Gab nowadays are very useless to me for using Social Media or watching viral videos online for a YouTube alternative! Even not signing up to watch viral videos online, it's 100% stupid!

This year if I thought, I rather have no subscribers anymore, focus on my savior Jesus Christ, and like my old day talented Cable TV Animated shows that are not completely stupid like nowadays! I rather have no subscribers and friends, than have any downvotes, negative comments ongoing spam, life-threatening trolling comments about me (even if I'm Aurstic online), or money scam spam comments! And I rather get in a bunch of trouble being Autistic without any internet than hear this YouTube video/channels, politics, and this Autistic or Not comment every time I go places!

I already wasted a decade and two months just to dream I being a small creator and liking to do things in life It turns out they downvote my videos, comment nasty trash-talking comments about Jed McCastle (JedDewFan27), and these Autistic Retards of whatever type of name-calling talk that made me upset and forfeit my further uploads online! Even if not online, I am still getting punished and in trouble by someone that I didn't do in life what I liked to do and my hard-earned best to do things right!

12 years, life is so hard to be Autistic, unlike most Autistics are very successful, and why I am the only one online who's unsuccessful and failed every site I go to?

Well, this year I thought ending my Small Creator life would be the right idea to start a new hobby after 12 years of trying off from the internet because of my unexpected crimes, excuses, and being banned on sites. In 2023, I may have to do things differently without no technology or entertainment nowadays that deserved to be a very dead-gone subject to me!

But after five years of trying, I'm bringing back the familiar Most Wanted Racers segment on Saturdays, and Truckin' Sundays on Sundays after five years trying in other sites. Internet Archive's stay of mine has now worked after 2 months of staying and thought I would limit my diecast uploads starting tomorrow to wrap up this Labor Day Weekend's uploads in 2023!

Best wishes in the future from Jed McCastle (PONY-CROSS 777)!
